

OYSTER Pointer

Port Warwick Dental Arts: Dental artistry with a gentle touch

BY RYAN KINSER

A warm, glowing smile is a treasure to behold. It has the power to lighten the hearts of those around us and leave a lasting impression that words alone cannot describe.

Finding a dental office to provide care, though, can be a daunting task. If you demand a dedicated, knowledgeable, and caring professional, then smile: Dr. Lisa Marie Samaha and her team of dental professionals provide precision care with the highest level of quality.

With her office conveniently located in the heart of Newport News in Port Warwick, Dr. Samaha brings to the community a unique level of expertise. With more than 23 years of training in advanced surgical procedures, patients are cared for in an extraordinarily efficient and professional manner. Also, many procedures can be completed in a single visit.

Dr. Samaha's Port Warwick Dental Arts is one of the very few offices offering Chairside Economical Restoration of Esthetic Ceramics (CEREC), one of the latest dental technologies. CEREC allows Dr. Samaha to quickly restore damaged teeth using a very durable ceramic material that closely matches the natural color of the patient's teeth. The procedure also allows her to replace metallic fillings with a superior ceramic material which is stronger and longer lasting.

"We offer our patients the highest standard of quality dental healthcare available, in the most caring and efficient manner," says Dr. Samaha. If the patient desires, Dr. Samaha is willing to book an entire day or two to treating an individual patient to ensure that quality treatment. This also allows the patient to move toward completion of the procedure in an expedient manner.

Dr. Lisa Marie Samaha consults with a patient against the calming backdrop of the meditation garden just outside.

In an effort to offer only the highest level of care, Dr. Samaha works feverishly to stay current with the dental community. She regularly attends seminars and training sessions across the country. Additionally, Dr. Samaha publishes many notable dental articles.

"Our patients are pampered, especially during these long days," acknowledges Dr. Samaha. "We provide them with nutritious shakes to keep them well-nourished and comfortable, and we offer warm blankets and aromatic neck wraps as well as eye pillows." One feels almost at bliss upon entering the office. The calming background music and beautiful artwork adorning the walls soothes the soul. Additionally, the center of the office offers a truly spectacular view of a meditation garden, complete with beautiful water lilies and Japanese Koi.

"My family has been a guiding inspiration in my life. My son, daughter, and husband have always supported me through my endeavors. My father is the ultimate mentor in my professional life," says Dr. Samaha.

Dr. Samaha also expresses herself through her acclaimed artwork.

Through the years, she has developed her talent. Today, her artwork is featured in galleries around the nation. In addition, her work is displayed in The Upper Gallery, located at her office. The Upper Gallery is also available to the public for exhibits, meetings, and other gatherings.

Many loyal patients have been with Dr. Samaha for more than 20 years.

This warm and friendly dentist is most appreciative of the support of her patients. "I thank those patients who have been with us from the very beginning, as well as those who have just become part of the family. Thank you for valuing what we do," says Dr. Samaha.

The fear you may have once experienced upon a visit to the dentist does not exist at Port Warwick Dental Arts. Once you've stepped inside these offices, you feel comfortable and ready for a caring experience. And, with Dr. Lisa Marie Samaha at your side, your smile will be automatic. ◀

